DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mr. Fayette Brown and Miss Nora Nichols obtained license to marry on the 23d inst.

—In the quarterly court on Monday there were two petitions and six summonses, one of the petition cases being continued from the January term.

—J. B. Adams & Bro., grocers, have sold out to G. D. Mahan, late of Clay county, and Howard Rice, of Garrard, who has been clerking for the firm for some time. J. B. Adams, who has had charge of the establishment, has no business plans as yet for the future.

—The grand combination sale of valuable horses by Bruce & Harlan took place at their fine stables on 4th street, beginning at 10 o'clock A. M. and ending at about 6 in the evening. The attendance was large, bidders being present from Ohio, Pennsylvania and other States. Seventy-three horses were sold at prices averaging $206.50, the whole amount of the sale being $15,075.

—The operation of ovariotomy was performed on Mrs. Dr. H. W. Dunlap, of this place, by Drs. Thaddeus Reamer, of Cincinnati, assisted by several of our local surgeons, on Thursday last. Beyond the fact that she was rather restless during Sunday night she has been doing as well as could reasonably be expected from the grave character of the operation. At this time (12 M. Monday) there is no cause for serious apprehensions.

—A French family named Crampe, consisting of a man, his wife, two children and a sister-in-law, who have been living for some time past in the Yeiser place, now owned by W. B. Cecil, left on Sunday for Whitley, Tennessee, where they will have employment with Mr. John A. Geary, who is operating a coal mine at that place. The American experience of these people has been rather dismal, owing to the fact that the grown ones are pretty well advanced in life and find it more difficult for that reason to acquire a knowledge of our language. It is cruel to induce such people to leave their homes in the old country, unless they emigrate and settle in colonies and have sufficient means to be self sustaining until they know enough of the language and the people among whom they go to be able to take care of themselves.

—Mr. Leslie Cox, the polite and accommodating clerk of Mr. Richard Foley, the Main street grocer, left Monday on a two weeks' visit to his parents in Cincinnati. Mr. Basil Guest left on Monday for Chicago, where, if he makes certain business arrangements, he will make his home in the future. Mrs. Lavinia McFerran Brown, of Atlanta, Georgia, arrived Monday. She will remain several weeks with her parents and other friends in this county. Messrs. Winne Wiseman and Wm. Briggs went to Hustonville Sunday to attend church. We have several churches and preachers in Danville, but "some-how-or-other" these gentlemen prefer the Hustonville gospel, at least for the present. They report interesting services, and regret that they were unable to remain for night meeting. Mr. M. C. Thurman left Monday for Cornersville, Ind., Columbus, and Troy, Ohio, to lay in a new supply of buggies and other light-wheeled vehicles.

Dr. Mary Walker always dresses in a broadcloth Prince Albert coat and well cut pantaloons. She wears a nicely laundered shirt and a necktie and looks like a little ugly withered boy. Her brown black hair hangs in rosy lops locks down to her neck. She wears a tall hat when on dress parade, and a Derby on ordinary occasions.

The recent meeting of the Chicago Trotting Club will certainly rank as the most successful ever held in the country. On one day, by actual count, 1,752 vehicles entered the grounds, a greater number than was ever seen on a race course in America before.

A MODEST Pittsburgh man who was discovered by a policeman taking a stroll with a woman of questionable character, and who wished to avoid exposure, jumped from a bridge forty feet to the ground, receiving fatal injuries.

GEO. O. BARNES in ENGLAND

'PRAISE THE LORD'

102 SHACKLEWELL LANE, DALSTON, LONDON, E. APR. 12, 1884.

Dear Interior:

Gradually, as light dawned, and following on with a "willing heart," but oh! such a slow head—I came to the experience that culminated in the day's work with Miss Macpherson, already described, when, in Bird Fair and a London lodging-house, the LORD showed me a plan that would work with the lowest and the worst. From that eventful day, which I shall ever regard as one of the most momentous turning points in my ministry, I applied the same method to all and since then have only asked acceptance of Jesus in the simple song,

"Just as I am without one plea," to the tune "Take me as I am." This latter is by long odds the most popular song in England and I utilized the melody, which is admirable, by detaching it from its original connection, in a hymn with a dreadfully poor gospel in it, and uniting it with one which is saturated with the pure, "good news of the grace of God." And I take care to tell them that even that is not necessary to salvation, but only an opportunity to give glad and joyous expression to a grateful acceptance of Jesus' love-gift. And that they may do it, quite unhampered by observation from others, I also invite all, who receive the love-gift, that Jesus brings for each one, at every assembly of "two or three gathered unto His Name," to join in this song of acceptance. The consequence is that every timid soul, who has the least wish in the right direction, is caught in the gospel net. From first to last, I try to impress them with the fact that not only is the gospel a simple giving and taking; but it is a matter of pure personal transaction between Jesus and the individual soul with which no one else has anything to do, in any shape whatever. There is therefore no need of recognizing one's fellow man in the transaction, by an open confession. For only "with the heart man believeth unto righteousness" and we are right with God, the greatest thing, when we give Him the "heart," or the "I will." After that and the joy of it, more or less, when it is quite delightful to do it, confession can be made and effectively made before men. Before God is the sinner's attitude. Before men is the saint's. And in either case "the way," if scriptural, ought to be "a way of pleasantness and a path of peace." As it is written, "I delight to do Thy will, oh, my God!" That is the whole thing in a nutshell. I wonder that I didn't see it consistently and throughout long before. But as we are all "fools and slow of heart to believe all," as those who lived before us were. One question is like another, "as pass in a pod." Now for results, for by fruits shall the tree be known:

1st. We have never had such a joyous series of services since our simple ministry began. The one hitch is out of the way and all rejoice together in the LOVE that "breaks every barrier down."

2d. Those who thus commit themselves joyously to the LORD alone soon turn out most bold and earnest confessors before men. The plan works like a charm. Having nothing to arouse obstinate resistance, the gratitude of a loving heart has full opportunity to work and a happy life soon attests the reality of the step taken. "An easy yoke"—a "light burden"—who fears such service? A life begun without strain will "flow on in endless song." It is only when a rough beginning sets the "key note" that the after life is full of discord. Sometimes the sweet grace of the LORD "much more abundantly," and lives, begun in weariness and tears, continue and end in joy. Surely one knows this, else none of us would turn out happily. But alas! one also knows the prevailing despondent tone of average christian life too well not to know that there is a deep-down cause for it all, in the first apprehension we all get of God and His service from the painful struggle in coming to the Savior, for which popular theology and church practices are largely responsible. One case let me mention, that will illustrate what I have written. I have told in a previous letter about the dear fellow who bit off a rat's head, while his hands were tied behind him. Well, he took Jesus at one of the meetings by feebly singing the chorus of "O Lamb of God, I come," with no one apparently noticing him, though a dozen loving hearts were watching with furtive eyes to see whether he would take the step. Without any further recognition, except a clasp of the hand and a persistence in calling him "brother," on the part of our circle, this is the outcome. A week ago, of his own accord, at Bexley Heath, this unlettered but honest man boldly confessed his Savior before his "mates" and besought them to come to Jesus. Here was a preacher—off-hand—without a theological seminary training. Last week he came out in a card in the Evening Times, over his own honest signature, in answer to slanderous words of anonymous scribblers, denouncing "my gospel" and the preaching of it. He simply wrote what my gospel had done for him and requested all to go and hear for themselves.

But this will suffice to introduce the subject, to which I hope to return again and again in the future.

I have received several letters from dear friends, who are grieved over my resumption of spectacles. They think it like taking medicine, and as inconsistent in one who trusts the Great Physician alone. I do not so regard it. Every one knows that glasses do not recover sight or restore the eyes. They are not taken as restoration at all. Medicine is so taken. They are only comforts, where sight is failing. As such I wear them and thank the dear LORD and trust Him just the same for my eyes to be given back undimmed. It may be a sign of weak faith. Be it so. At any rate, I will not make Him "a hard Master" nor an "austere man." That is worse than anything. The moment "the yoke" galled, I threw it off. And by His sweet grace I always will. His "burden" shall always be "light" to me. It is the one necessity of my life that "I delight to do His will." I no longer delight to go without glasses and I took them up. That is the line I am on to the end of the summer that closes life's conflicts. "Judge not," dear friends, nor be distressed. I have abandoned no blessed principle that I have taught in the past. Only one knows the dear LORD better as one goes on. Sitting at His feet, let us all "go on unto perfection"—forgetting the things behind and pressing forward with loving hearts and ready hands, till we hear the music of His sweet "well done." Follow me, only as I follow Christ. Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

WILLOW GROVE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Will Alexander sold to Dick Cobb, Jr., 3 calves at $22.50 per head.

—One young man's feet hit the ceiling in this neighborhood last week, but then a girl has the right to change her mind whenever she wants to. No names called.

—The Sunday-school at this place will not be opened this summer, as has been the custom for a number of years, because it seems that the brethren are not dwelling together in unity according to the biblical injunction.

—The farmers in this neighborhood have been planting corn for the last few days, and propose to keep the moles from taking it up by following the directions given Dan Stagg, Jr., in the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Courier-Journal recently.

—A party of five or six went down to fish in Green River last week and most assuredly did they have fishermen's luck—two of them especially, as they did not know how to manage the skiff, which was overturned and one of them, a good Sunday-school Superintendent, could not swim, but got down on the bottom of that almost fathomless stream and crawled out. Uncle Sam Helm has lived on the banks of Hanging Fork long enough to know how to swim.

If your Paint Lick correspondent will come down this way he will find a string band that will lay it all over the one about which he wrote so gracefully a short time since. The one here is composed of eight or nine instruments, with A. E. Hundley and Col. J. W. Cook as leaders and musical directors and their music is indeed harmonious to the ear. They say that if Huffman & Reid will bring their Stanford Orchestra down, they will have a large and appreciative audience at the Willow Grove School-house to decide the yet unsettled question as to which band is entitled to the blue and which to the red.

—Allen Gilmore bought of Dr. H. P. Bosley 58 acres of the old Jack Bosley farm at $75 per acre, cash. Madam Rumor says that "Uncle Allen" will shortly take unto himself a rib to rule his household, and it is to be hoped that it is true as there are nine wealthy old bachelors in this neighborhood, who should bear in mind that "a wife never was designed to make our pleasures less." They must either all get married or move out, as there are not now enough children in the district to get up a respectable school at this place. I could mention their names in this connection, but am afraid of the consequences, for Dr. Logan especially, handles a pistol in a manner characteristic of the true Kentuckian.

—Miss Lillie Minor, of Little South Fork neighborhood is the guest of Mrs. Sam Johnson. Miss Sallie Alcorn, of McKinney, who has been visiting Miss George Lewis, returned home yesterday. Mr. A. R. Waters, a telegraph operator on the Cincinnati Southern, spent Sunday with his parents in this vicinity. Mrs. Richard Cobb, Jr., has returned from a visit to her father, Mr. Phelps, in Madison county. Mr. Wm. Swope has been considerably under the weather for several days, but is improving. Miss Pinkie Helm, of Lincoln, has been spending the week with her grand-parents. Miss Lula Elliott has returned to her home in Lexington after a protracted visit to Mrs. Swope. Miss Mattie Hopkins, of Hopkinsville, is with her sister, Mrs. Abe W. Smith. Mr. Jas. T. Carson, a New York drummer, passed here Friday, but was too drowsy to stop long enough to display his samples. Mrs. W. H. Higgins, of Stanford, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. T. M. Lewis.

Excited Thousands All over the land are going into ecstasy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their unlooked-for recovery by the timely use of this great life-saving remedy causes them to go nearly wild in its praise. It is guaranteed to positively cure severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs. Trial Bottles free at Penny & McAlister's Drug Store. Large sizes!

Never Give Up. If you are suffering with low and dejected spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease; and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by Penny & McAlister.

PAINT LICK, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Our farmers are much elated over the pretty weather and are all as busy as bees.

—Col. A. M. Swope, of Lexington, was here Thursday on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Ed Ballard.

—Nearly everybody here had business in Richmond Monday, but of course none of them went to the circus.

—A horse fell down with Miss Mattie Yeakey a few evenings ago dislocated one of her arms and bruised one side of her face considerably.

—Our town has been very dull since the pretty weather set in and our merchants are talking of going off on a fishing tour until the farmers get through planting corn.

—There is nothing like good health. A certain young man of this vicinity goes to Lowell every evening to get him a drink of sulphur water. There is a very pretty young lady who lives close to the well, too. —Jesse Royston has been offered $1,500 for one of his race colts now in training at Covington. Mr. Scott Farris has been handling them but a short time and he says they are good ones. If there is any run in a horse Scott will get it out.

—The boiler of the saw mill of Johnson Jones exploded Friday and blew the fireman thirty feet from the mill, cut several places on his face, but he was not seriously hurt. The shed of the mill was blown to pieces and scattered in every direction. Cause of explosion can not be accounted for.

—Mr. Joe Maret, an old and respected citizen near this place, died Friday and was interred in the family burying-ground Saturday at 2 o'clock. He was taken with a severe case of pneumonia and lived but a few days. He said when first taken that he would not get well. He was a good citizen, a good neighbor, a kind and affectionate husband and a loving father. He leaves a wife and two little children to mourn his loss. The entire community sympathize with the bereaved ones.

The largest stock ever in Stanford and the best to be found in Central Kentucky, embracing about twenty-five different styles from the leading manufacturers in the United States. Persons contemplating buying a vehicle this Spring should select the same or place their orders at once; for at this season all manufacturers of first-class vehicles are invariably over-run with orders and if the vehicle wanted is not on hands, it will require from four to eight weeks to obtain it; four weeks being required to make, finish and dry a first-class job ready for shipment, under the most favorable circumstances.

All work sold by me will be found to be such as I represent them, unless I have been deceived myself, and in that event the purchaser will be fully indemnified. Call and examine my stock and I will do my best to please you in style, quality and price. You can get as good vehicles from me and at reasonable prices as you can obtain anywhere else and get a guarantee on them, besides that is worthless to you when buying away from home. Respectfully,
